New York, March 7.—At midnight a general order was issued by officers of the subway and the 'L' for a strike at 4 o'clock this morning.

At midnight last there was every indication a strike would be declared before morning on the subway and every elevated road in the city.

Every effort to settle the controversy peacefully failed and more than 100 men awaited the order of their chief to go out in a body.

The police reserves for the various districts are in readiness to be pushed to the affected districts to avert trouble.

The strike-breakers brought by the Interborough company in the event of a strike, are in readiness to take the places of the men.

A meeting of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees was held at Marion Hall, in East One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, and a unanimous vote was taken to strike before morning unless a full and complete surrender was made by the Interborough Company.

The Brotherhood of Railway Employees are in readiness to be pushed to the affected districts to avert trouble.

SANCTITY OF THE MEDIUM'S BOOTH

Invaded By the Virginian and a Free-For-All Fight Followed the Exposure.

New York, March 7.—A spiritualizing medium, who was the spook, who materialized in a very abrupt and pronounced manner when Mr. Berwick, accompanied by his cousin, Harrison Grimes, invaded the sanctity of the sordid and meanly booth where the spirit was supposed to appear and dragged her, shrieking, hating and kicking, into the middle of the room where the "worshippers" were.

The exposure was promptly followed by a free-for-all fight, in which the very material-spook took an active part with her friends and her earthly husband. Berwick and Grimes vanquished the 300-pound visitor from the other world, and the Virginian took away with him, as a trophy a bizarre headpiece, built of an old derby hat from which the crown had been divorced, and around which a long strip of cheese cloth, besmeared with phosphorescent paint, was wound.

"Rev." Herrman's corpulent form was enshrouded in an equally bizarre, equally shimmering and ghoulish, with phosphorescent paint. This was almost torn from her in the struggle. Berwick says he will prosecute the woman and use the headpiece as evidence.

PASSENGERS MADE UP PURSE

Gave $100 to Quick-Witted Miner Who Saved Them From Injury and Possible Death.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 7.—Train home when he discovered that a heavy landslide had covered the track. Rushing to a nearby switch house from Washington, he saved the passengers from injury and possible death. The passengers raised a purse of $100 for their savior.

GIRL ACCUSES MALE TEACHER

Clyde DeWyre Charged With Hugging His Pupils.

Bowling Green, March 7.—It is alleged that Clyde DeWyre, the teacher of Hedge district school, has hugged his girl pupils and therefore the outraged parents of the school want his head, officiating at least.

Last Saturday the entire community gathered in the little school house and witnessed the formal preferment of charges against Mr. DeWyre. He is also charged with sleeping during school hours and lax discipline.

Mr. DeWyre denies he has been guilty of any impropriety and will sustain his reputation to the last.

CLASPED PICTURE AND CURL OF HAIR

Pathetic Tragedy in Omaha Hotel--Suicide Follows Army Officer's Suit for Divorce.

Omaha, Neb., March 7.—Mrs. Bessie Chandler, wife of Lieutenant C. B. Chandler of the United States army, who committed suicide in a hotel here Saturday night, following the suit for divorce brought by her husband, copied two verses from Homer's "Iliad" before she fired the fatal shot.

Before killing herself Mrs. Chandler had read the verses to the chambermaid to whom, in her deep distress, she confided the story of her wretched life. So great was the misery and loneliness of the unhappy woman that she threw herself on the bed, breast and sobbed out the pathetic details.

Clasped in Mrs. Chandler's hands as she lay dead by her bed, was a picture of her little boy and a curl of his hair. On the back of the photograph was the written request that these souvenirs be buried with her.

The boy is a beautiful child and has accompanied his mother through all her travels. He is being cared for by the managers of the hotel. His grandmother in Baltimore, has telegraphed a request that the child be sent to her at once and that the body of the mother be forwarded to Baltimore for burial.

Mrs. Chandler was the second wife of Lieutenant B. Chandler, of the 25th Infantry, stationed at Fort Niobrara. They were married four years ago in Baltimore. Both are from prominent families. Mrs. Chandler being a niece of the Governor of Maryland. Her maiden name was Elizabeth Kenley. They lived happily until last summer when the Lieutenant was on duty at Fort Riley, Kansas. Mrs. Chandler, remaining at Fort Niobrara, is alleged to have fallen under the influence of Captain Kirkman, whose continued relations with her led Chandler to bring suit for divorce. Kirkman since has been charged with this and other serious offenses.

Since the death of Mrs. Chandler, Captain Kirkman twice has attempted to commit suicide. He is under close guard.

NEXT WEDNESDAY

Mileage Relations Between Steam and Electric Roads to be Discussed.

According to the call just issued by the Central Passenger Association will have a long schedule of business to transact at the regular monthly meeting in Chicago next Wednesday. Once again the vexing question of interchange mileage relations between certain steam and electric lines will come up for consideration to be based on certain data obtained since the last regular meeting. Among the many other questions to be considered will be that of abolition of second class fares from Fort Wayne, Toledo, Detroit and contiguous territory to St. Louis and the granting of special rates on account of the meeting of the Northwest Ohio Teachers' Association at Delphos, April 7 and 8, and the Northwestern Ohio Volunteer Firemen's Association at Waukegan, June 20 to 22 inclusive.—Fort Wayne News.

Witch of Finance on Trial For Conspiracy, Returns Iron-master's Stare.

FAIR DEFENDANT FAINTS; BRINGS SESSION TO CLOSE

Woman Enters Court Outwardly Calm and Tastefully Gowned in Velvet.

JURY IS IMPANELED; CASES ARE OUTLINED

Defense Announces It Will Rely Chiefly On Weakness of the Prosecution.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 6.—Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick and Andrew Carnegie faced each other in court today under the eyes of an eager crowd.

The multimillionaire, who claims he never saw Mrs. Chadwick before, though she resembles him and has claimed him as father, scrutinized the woman charged with obtaining a million dollars by fraudulent use of his name, and Mrs. Chadwick gazed back at the venerable iron king rather defiantly.

Stylishly attired stately and serene of manner, Mrs. Chadwick was a calm but interested spectator at the opening of her trial yesterday in the United States court of Judge R. W. Taylor on a charge of conspiracy with the late President Beckwith and Cashier Spear to swindle the depositors of wrecked Citizens' Bank of Oberlin, Ohio.

Mrs. Chadwick Takes Defensive.

Her lawyers announced her case will be the weakness of the government's evidence against her simply demanding proof of criminal conspiracy.

In the following words Attorney Jay P. Dawley opened Mrs. Chadwick's defense:

"Gentlemen of the jury, our case will be the evidence as it falls from the lips of the witnesses who shall testify here. We think that the evidence will fail to convince you that there was any fraudulent conspiracy to defraud the United States. Whatever President Beckwith or Cashier Spear may have done was absolutely independent of Mrs. Chadwick and without procurement on her part."

United States District Attorney Sullivan acted as prosecutor for the government, assisted by Thomas H. Garvey and Benjamin Parmley, Jr. Mrs. Chadwick was represented by Attorneys Dawley and Korusch and former Federal Judge Wing, the services of the latter having been secured Sunday.

Jury is Impaneled.

The process of impaneling the jury was completed in a few hours. The jury is composed of nine farmers, a real estate agent and two school teachers, whose ages range from forty to sixty-five years.

Mrs. Chadwick walked into the courtroom with stately mien and was entirely unostentatious. She was dressed in a tasteful and expensive black velvet. There was a black skirt and a white silk shirt waist which for the most part was concealed by a black velvet coat, relieved by white revers and white cuffs, covered with black braid. She wore a wide black hat, on the side of which was a bunch of long black feathers, which shaded off into white at the tips. She took a seat at a long table in the center of the courtroom immediately behind her leading counsel, Jay P. Dawley, and sat with her chin in the palm of her right hand. Mrs. Chadwick, being partially deaf, Dawley carried on communication with her with pencil and paper.

Attorney Dawley outlined the defense in these words:

There was no conspiracy. One person cannot conspire. Mrs. Chadwick alone is charged with conspiracy. She was not with President Beckwith or Cashier Spear when they made entries on the Oberlin bank books. She had nothing to do with the bank's bookkeeping. She knows nothing of what they did in the bank. Beckwith and Spear acted in good faith, believing Mrs. Chadwick to be a wealthy woman. If they loaned her more money than they should that was their business. Mrs. Chadwick had nothing to do with that. The failure of the bank is not incriminating against Mrs. Chadwick. Even if there was fraud upon her part, that is not conspiracy. Beckwith and Spear knew nothing of that.

State Outlines Case.

"The evidence upon which we have based our case is briefly this," said United States Attorney Sullivan.

"First, that the Citizens' National Bank of Oberlin was a national bank; second, that C. T. Beckwith and A. B. Spear were president and cashier respectively; third, that in the years 1903-1904 Beckwith and Spear had many intimate business associations and connections; fourth, that checks were drawn by the defendant on the Citizens' National bank and were certified to when the defendant had not deposits or records in the bank.

"The evidence will also show that these checks aggregated $87,000; that some of these checks were paid by the First National bank of this city; that the defendant called up this bank by telephone and wanted one check for $15,000 held; that the bank was unwilling until President Beckwith credited it; that the $15,000 was then taken to the Kennard House by a messenger and paid over to Mrs. Chadwick, in company with President Beckwith; that at that time Mrs. Chadwick did not have one dollar on deposit with the Citizens' National Bank of Oberlin."

The first important and radical move made by the defense came during the afternoon when Judge Francis J. Wing arose at the instant the first witness was called and objected on the ground that the indictment was defective in charging conspiracy against one person. This objection was overruled and the examination proceeded.

Defendant Faints in Court.

Mrs. Chadwick took a great interest in the proceedings and worked

A HORSE THIEF
Worked In Continental and Then, It is Thought Went to Delphos.

(Delphos Herald.)

The Continental Ohio says that one day last week a stranger drove to the home of Frank Lighthill and asked for accommodation for himself and horse. The man remained over night and during his stay at the Lighthill home, offered the horse for sale. The animal was purchased by Mr. Lighthill and the stranger left for Delphos. Later a man from Broughton appeared on the scene and claimed the animal, but Lighthill refused to give it up. Replevin papers were issued and the horse was returned to the rightful owner, while the Continental man was out of pocket. The stranger proved to be a horse thief and is now probably working in this territory.

Session

Many Ordinances Were Given Their Second Reading.

COMPLAINT IS MADE OF DAN-GEROUS CROSSING ON BELLEFONTAINE AVE-NUE.

Complaint was made of the dangerous crossing of the Detroit Southern on Bellefontaine avenue and the matter was referred to the street committee.

The ordinances prohibiting gambling and providing for the destruction of gambling paraphernalia, regulating the liquor traffic, sending expressmen and moving van men to the market house grounds and prohibiting cab drivers from soliciting patronage on depot grounds, sidewalks and other public places, were given their second reading. A protest against sending the expressmen to the market house grounds, signed by thirty protestants, was received and laid on the table.

A communication was received from the Lima Locomotive and Machine company, asking that council take up the matter of paving south Main street, from the Chicago and Erie tracks to the C. H. & D. This is a distance of a long city block, crossed by probably a dozen main and side tracks. The Chicago & Erie, the Lake Erie & Western and the C. H. & D. are interested, while the petitioning company owns a very respectable strip through the tract covered by their prayer. Some sort of improvement is certainly needed in this stretch of street, as at present crossing these tracks is one continual bump from the time the first is past until the last has been gone over. The communication was referred to the street committee for a report.

The City Solicitor submitted an opinion bearing upon costs of advertising the improvement of south Pine street by paving. It will be remembered that after the council and Board of Public Service were ready to go forward with this improvement the property owners on that street came into council with another petition, asking that the work be dropped. The city had already incurred the expense of advertising the contract for letting, and the solicitor holds that the property owners who petitioned for the paving are liable for this expense.

A petition was received from property owners on Grove avenue, situated between Market and Elm streets praying for the opening of that thoroughfare. A Mrs. Snyder offers to sell a lot 40x200 feet very cheaply in order to facilitate the improvement, this lot lying in the line of the proposed opening. The communication was referred to the street committee and solicitor.

One thousand dollars was transferred from the general fund to the sewer fund, to provide for the building of the so-called trunk sewer on High street, from Elizabeth to Main street.
This transfer has the effect of annulling a borrowing ordinance passed previously, in order to provide the funds for this work.

VACCINATION.

Office of Department of Board of Health, Lima, March 2nd, 1905.
Prof. C. C. Miller, Supt. Public Schools, Lima, Ohio:
Dear Sir:—On a motion regularly passed at a called meeting of the Board of Health which convened at the Mayor's office, March 1st, 1905, I am instructed to inform you that the Board of Health will require each pupil to present a certificate of vaccination to the teacher before being allowed to re-enter the schools after the expiration of the quarantine.
Respectfully,
By order of the Board of Health.
O. J. ROSE, Clerk.

Miss Lydia Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Taylor, living three miles northwest of this city, died Monday morning. She was only 17 years of age and had been sick a week from scarlet fever. The funeral was held this morning at 9:30. No service held owing to the contagious disease. The remains of the girl were interred in Dutch Hollow cemetery.

Mrs. Lydia Herring, widow of Penrose Herring, died at her old homestead, a mile northwest of Allentown, yesterday, at the advanced age of 63 years. She was born in Perry township and had lived on the homestead for fifty years. Her husband preceded her to the grave about 12 years ago. She leaves nine children, a daughter, Mrs. James Syfcer, being a resident of Lima. The funeral has been set for Wednesday at 10 a. m., sun time, at the Allentown United Brethren church, Rev. Swords officiating. The body will be buried in Greenlawn cemetery.

Mrs. Marry Harrod, one of the prominent residents of Waynesfield, died at her home yesterday noon, from consumption, aged 55 years. She was the wife of Josiah Harrod, a "forty-ener," who assumed a fortune in the gold fields of California in an early day. She had suffered from the great plague for years and only recently returned from a trip to the sunny climes of Florida, where she was not benefitted. The funeral will be held tomorrow.

AMUSEMENTS

Mason & Mason is the new musical comedy success, "Fritz & Soltz," under the direction of Broadhurst Currie will be presented at the Pa-nor opera house on Thursday night.
In speaking of a recent production the press says: "Fritz & Soltz, a successful musical farce began a week's engagement at the Grand Opera House last night with a full cast of forty players, farceurs and chorists who each contributes earnestly his share to maintain for the big whitwind show, its distinction as one of the big leading musical productions of the season and having a vast audience of enthusiastic admirers who expressed in most unmistakable terms indications of approval which insured the continuance of the same hit throughout the engagement. The performance was in every respect a most excellent one and the clever company of comedians are to be congratulated for the able presentation." A special cast has been engaged to play the piece consisting of some of the best musical comedy artists on the stage.

To Accommodate Customers

I have opened a permanent "Zetlitz Branch" in Melville's Drug Store, this will be managed by my daughter, who formerly had charge of my store on W. Market street.

My two sons, who for some years have perfected themselves for this business in Chicago's largest establishment will assist me, in the future to bring my already well established business up to the highest standard. All orders left at the

"Branch Store"
will be given immediate attention.

State Senator
Sprung Sensation

Colorado Labor Leader Claims
He Was Given $1,000

To Vote for Seating of Alva Adams-- Names Two Men as Briders.

Both Those Charged Deny Story and Swear Out Warrants Charging Morgan With Perjury
--Democrats Say It Was Pre-arranged.

Denver, Colo., March 7.—State Senator Richard Morgan, a labor leader of Boulder county, created a sensation when the legislature met in joint assembly this morning to hear further arguments in the gubernatorial contest by declaring that he has been given $1,000 by D. S. Sullivan, the attorney-at-law at Cripple Creek and J. E. Herbert, general manager of the Colorado Southern railroad to vote for the seating of Governor Adams when the legislature votes on the contest. Morgan stated that he had already received $750 of this money.

Both Sullivan and Herbert denied the allegation and warrants charging Morgan with perjury have been sworn out.

Herbert states that Morgan called at his office Saturday saying that he had been offered $3,000 to vote for Peabody. Herbert declined to discuss the matter with Morgan.

Democrats are vehement in declaring the Republicans have put up a job to create sentiment for Peabody and they propose to prosecute Morgan to the full extent of the law.

Pennsylvania Railroad to Spend Hundred Million

Bonds to Be Issued in That Amounts for a New Stock and Equipment.

Philadelphia, March 6.—The North American says: The Pennsylvania railroad company at its annual meeting to be held March 14, will ask the stockholders to authorize an issue of $100,000,000 of new bonds. The proceeds of these bonds will be applied to the purchase of new stock and to provide for construction work on its lines west of Pittsburgh $30,000,000; to retire bonds maturing this summer $27,000,000; for New York tunnel terminal work $12,500,000; for general extension and construction work on the Pennsylvania railroad $12-500,000 and for locomotive and equipments $17,500,000.

TO FIGHT COMBINES

Independent Torpedo Concern Will Be Organized.

Findlay, March 6.—Since the consolidation of all local nitroglycerine companies, local producers have been laboring upon the organization of a new torpedo concern which will be established within a week or two, Clint Henning and A. H. McCabe, formerly employed by the defunct Producers' company, have been secured by the new organization. The factory will be erected on the Isaac Davis farm four miles east of the city. Branch offices and magazines will be established in Indiana and other oil states.

Findlay independent producers are behind the movement and are taking up stock liberally.

DEFIANCE HAS A
DIPHTHERIA SCARE

Defiance, March 7.—This city is threatened with diphtheria epidemic because J. B. Milligan refused to have a doctor or even accept medical attention for his daughter, Berissa, who has the disease. There are now 20 or more cases of the disease in the city.

The board of health has placed a guard on duty at the Milligan home, where there are six children. There is no law to compel the family to receive medical aid even when given gratis, and the health authorities have their hands full.

Cody Scores Victory.

Omaha, Neb., March 7.—Colonel W.
F. Cody scored a triumph today in his divorce suit when he testified in deposition that there was no house of ill fame at Fort McPherson at the time he was accused of having frequented one.

Much other evidence of a similar character was refuted by "Buffalo Bill." His domestic relations so far as ample provisions for his wife and family were concerned were shown by Buffalo Bill to have been creditable.
He denied point blank that his wife had ever lacked anything which money could buy and offered testimony that she had never been compelled to sew for a living or do any work to keep up expenses. He said he had arranged with the authorities at McPherson to allow Mrs. Cody to have anything she wanted or needed, he settled the bills. He declared he had made Mrs. Cody the richest woman in Nebraska, having given her an unencumbered residence at North Platte, worth $20,000.

William Whalen, of North Platte, testified that in 1894, when the Richardson and Bennett theatrical company was entertained at the Cody home at North Platte Mrs. Cody declared an aversion for "dirty theatrical people" and asked Whalen if he had come again to get drunk.

We Offer $1,000

For a Disease Germ That Liquozone Can't Kill.

On every bottle of Liquozone we offer $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. We do this to assure you that Liquozone does kill germs.

And it is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any drug that kills germs internally, Medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease. It is this fact which gives Liquozone its worth to humanity; a worth so great that, after through physicians and hospitals, we paid $100,000 for the American rights.
And we have spent over one million dollars, in one year, to buy the first bottle and give it free to each sick one who would try it.

Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—goes to the stomach,
into the bowels and into the blood,
to go wherever the blood goes. No germ can escape it and none can resist it. The results are inevitable, for a germ disease must end when the germs are killed. Then Liquozone, acting as a wonderful tonic, quickly restores a condition of perfect health, which gives Liquozone its worth to humanity; a worth so great that, after
through physicians and hospitals, we paid $100,000 for the American rights.
And we have spent over one million dollars, in one year, to buy the first bottle and give it free to each sick one who would try it.

Germ Diseases.
These are the known germ diseases.
All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

Acts Like Oxygen.
Liquozone is not made by compounding drugs, nor is there any alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. This process has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research.

The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is an absolutely certain germicide. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—goes to the stomach,

into the bowels and into the blood,
to go wherever the blood goes. No germ can escape it and none can resist it. The results are inevitable, for a germ disease must end when the germs are killed. Then Liquozone, acting as a wonderful tonic, quickly
restores a condition of perfect health, which gives Liquozone its worth to

lars, in one year, to buy the first bottle and give it free to each sick one

STRYCHNINE POISONING

Declared to Have Been Cause of Mrs.
Stanford's Death—Autopsy Physician Testifies.

Honolulu, March 7.—At a coroner's inquest yesterday into the death of Mrs. Jane L. Stanford, Dr. C. D.
Wood, one of the autopsy physicians, testified that the symptoms found by him and other physicians indicated that strychnine poisoning was the cause of Mrs. Stanford's death. The different organs, he said, failed to show any sufficient cause of death from disease.

DETROIT SOUTHERN

STORY OF A DOCTOR'S PRESCRIPTION

Father John's Medicine was originally prescribed for Rev. Father John O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., in 1872, by a medical specialist. He was very much "run down" and suffering from a severe cough and cold and this prescription produced such wonderful results in his case that he afterwards recommended it to his parishioners and friends.

In this way it became popularly known as Father John's Medicine and many thousands have since benefited by this valuable prescription.

As a guarantee that the story of Father John's Medicine is absolutely true the sum of $25,000 will be given to any charitable institution if it can be shown otherwise. Also it is further guaranteed that if Father John's Medicine does not do all that we claim for it, your money will be refunded.

APPROPRIATION

Is Asked of the City Council for a Contagion Hospital.

It is Something That Lima Should Have Before Another Year Rolls By— Poor Farm Would Be An Excellent Location.

Lima is up against a proposition that must be solved in a very short time. The epidemic of small pox from which she is just emerging is likely to occur again at any time and the business interests of Lima cannot suffer after as they have suffered during the past few weeks. There is but one solution according to Dr. Jones, Health Officer and that is the building of a contagion hospital, not a pest house, but an up-to-date hospital, a place that any person can be taken to and receive every attention.

STATE TELEGRAMS

The annual Sunday school convention of Putnam county will be held in May, at Pandora.

The post office at Charlo, west of Leipsic, has been discontinued, and that section will be covered by rural free delivery.

The Christian and Missionary Alliance will hold a four-day convention at Bowling Green, commencing May 11.

Miss Zella Van Sickle, one of the most popular society young ladies of Hancock county, died in Findlay Saturday, from scarlet fever.

M. T. Neff, one of Findlay's most wealthy business men, died last night. Mr. Neff was one of the pioneer lumbermen of this section of the country. He was 73 years of age.

Mrs. Catherine Staler, mother of County Commissioner Staler, of Upper Sandusky, died Saturday afternoon. She was 78 years old. She leaves three children.

John Zahrend, a business man of Leipsic, while in Napoleon at the funeral and burial of his sister, became suddenly ill, and is unable to be brought to his home. His wife has been summoned to his bedside.

Alfred Kelly, the aged father of Attorney J. E. Kelly, of Bowling Green, fell Saturday, breaking his left hip. Mr. Kelly is almost 90 years of age, and so has probably walked for the last time.

The farmers south of Columbus Grove organized a permanent Farmers' Institute society, since the meeting held this month, and will hold another institute next year. It is known as the Monroe township society.

Zachariah Stakelov and Marie Sherer have begun proceedings in common pleas court at Findlay against the Big Four railroad for $27,500 damages. They allege that they received injuries in a wreck at Vanline and are incapacitated for work.

The Wings of the Morning

By LOUIS
TRACY

Copyright, 1903, by Edward J. Clode

Chapter I.—The Sirdar, leaving among her passengers Iris Deane, daughter of the owner of the ship, and Robert Jenks, who is working as a waiter, is wrecked.

II.—All are lost save Miss Deane and Jenks, who are cast ashore on an islet in the Pacific.

III.—Jenks recovers stores and weapons from the wrecked vessel. He finds the skeleton of a European on the island.

IV.—A cave on the island is fitted up as a habitation. A chart of the island, mysteriously marked, is found on the skeleton.

V.—Jenks finds a hollow filled with human skeletons, the remains of a mining party. He is rescued from an octopus by Iris while recovering rifles from the wreck of the Sirdar.

VI.—Jenks tells Iris that his real name is Anstruther and that, through the machinations of Lord Ventnor, he has been unjustly dismissed in disgrace from the English army. Lord Ventnor has been mentioned on the Sirdar as affianced to Iris.

VII.—Iris is attacked by a party of fierce Dyaks (Polynesian natives.) They are beaten off by Jenks, three, however, escaping in their boat. The castaways dread their return.

VIII.—Anstruther prepares to defend Iris and himself, fortifying a ledge of the rock above their cave.

IX.—A rich gold mine, indicated on the mysterious chart of the island, is discovered in the cave.

X and XI.—The Dyaks attack the island. Among them is an escaped convict, an Indian Mussulman. They discover the hiding place, but are defeated by the Englishman.

XII.—An unlucky shot costs Jenks and Iris their water supply. A truce with the savages, the Mussulman, speaking Hindoo to Anstruther, acting as interpreter. Mr. Jan, the Indian, agrees to aid Anstruther and supply him with water.

XIII.—Iris and Anstruther, in the midst of peril, avow their love for each other. The fight continues.

XIV.—Mr. Jan is true to his word and aids the beleaguered couple. At the critical moment the three are rescued by the British warship Orient, which has been attracted to the island by the firing.

XV.—On board the Orient is Sir Arthur Deane, father of Iris, who has been searching for his shipwrecked child. Lord Ventnor is also on board.

XVI.—Sir Arthur is in Lord Ventnor's financial power and has promised that Iris shall wed him if rescued.

XVII.—Anstruther's name is cleared up and Lord Ventnor's chances for Iris' hand are ruined by the confession of the woman who aided Ventnor in Anstruther's disgrace. Sir Arthur is rescued from Ventnor's power by Anstruther's uncle, and Anstruther and Iris are wed.

"Well, it seems that Mrs. Costobell is dead. She got entangled in a wreck after the Orient sailed and was a goner in four days. Before she died she owned up."

He paused, with a base eye to effect. Not a man moved a muscle.

"All right," he cried. "I will make no more false starts. Mrs. Costobell begged her husband's forgiveness for her treatment of him and confessed that she and Lord Ventnor planned the affair for which Anstruther was tried by court martial. It must have been a beastly business, for Costobell was sweating with rage, though his words were icy enough. And you ought to have seen Ventnor's face when he heard of the depositions, sworn to and signed by Mrs. Costobell and by several Chinese servants whom he bribed to give false evidence. He promised to marry Mrs. Costobell if her husband died, or, in any event, to bring about a divorce when the Hongkong affair had blown over. Then she learned that he was after Miss Iris, and there is no doubt her fury helped on the fever. Costobell said that, for his wife's sake, he would have kept the wretched thing secret, but he was compelled to clear Anstruther's name, especially as it came across the other old Johnnie."

"Pompey, you are incoherent with excitement. Who is the other old Johnnie?"

"Didn't I tell you? Why, Anstruther's uncle, of course, a heavy old swell with just a touch of Yorkshire in his tongue. I gathered that he disapproved his nephew when the news of the court martial reached him. Then he relented and cabled to him. Getting no news, he came east to look for him. He met Costobell the day after the lady died, and the two vowed to be revenged on Ventnor and to clear Anstruther's character, living or dead. Poor old chap! He cried like a baby when he asked the youngster to forgive him. It was quite touching.

"Well, Costobell shook Ventnor off at last, with the final observation that Anstruther's court martial has been quashed. The next batch of general orders will restate him in the regiment, and it rests with him to decide whether or not a criminal warrant shall be issued against his lordship for conspiracy."

"What did Miss Deane do?"

"Clung to Anstruther like a weeping angel and kissed everybody all round when Ventnor got away. Well—hands off. I mean her father, Anstruther and the stout uncle. Unfortunately I was not on in that scene. But for some reason they all nearly wrung my arm off, and the men were so excited that they gave the party a rousing cheer as their rickshaws went off in a bunch."

The next commotion arose in the hotel when Sir Arthur Deane seized the first opportunity to explain the predicament in which his company was placed and the blow which Lord Ventnor yet had it in his power to deal.

Mr. William Anstruther was an interested auditor. Robert would have spoken, but his uncle restrained him.

"Leave this to me, lad," he exclaimed. "When I was coming here in the Sirdar there was a lot of talk about Sir Arthur's scheme, and there should not be much difficulty in raising all the brass required if half what I heard be true. Sit you down, Sir Arthur, and tell us all about it."

The shipowner required no second bidding. With the skill for which he was noted he described his operations in detail, telling how every farthing of the first instalments of the two great loans was paid up, how the earnings of his fleet would quickly overtake the deficit in capital value caused by the loss of the three ships and how in six months' time the leading financial houses of London, Paris and Berlin would be offering him more money than he would need.

To a shrewd man of business the project could not fail to commend itself, and the Yorkshire squire, though a trifle obstinate in temper, was singularly clear headed in other respects. He brought his great fist down on the table with a whack.

"Send a cable to your company, Sir Arthur," he cried, "and tell them that your prospective son-in-law will provide the $10,000 you require. I will see that his draft is honored. You can add, if you like, that another ten will be ready if wanted when this lot is spent. I did my bit once deuced bad turn in my life. This time, I think, I am doing him a good one."

"You are, indeed," said Iris' father enthusiastically. "The unalloyed capital he is taking up will be worth four times its face value in two years."

"All the more reason to make his holding twenty instead of ten," roared the Yorkshireman. "But, look here. You talk about dropping proceedings against that precious earl whom I saw today. Why not tell him not to worry any funny tricks until Robert's money is safely lodged to your account? We have him in our power. Does it all, let us use him a bit."

Deane laughed at the naive suggestion. It was delightful to think that their arch enemy was actually helping the baronet's affairs at that very moment and would continue to do so until he was flung aside as being of no further value. Although Ventnor himself had carefully avoided any formal commitment, the cablegrams awaiting the shipowner at Singapore showed that confidence had already been restored by the uncontradicted use of his lordship's name.

Robert at last obtained a hearing.

"You two are quietly assuming the attitude of the financial magnates of this gathering," he said. "I must admit that you have managed things very well between you, and I do not propose for one moment to interfere with your arrangements. Nevertheless, Iris and I are really the chief moneyed persons present. You spoke of financial houses in England and on the continent backing up your loans six months hence, Sir Arthur. You need not go to them. We will be your bankers."

The baronet laughed with a whole hearted gaiety that revealed whence Iris got some part at least of her bright disposition.

"Will you sell your island, Robert?" he cried. "I am afraid that not even Iris could wheedle any one into buying it."

"But, father, dear," interrupted the girl earnestly, "what Robert says is true. We have a gold mine there. It is worth so much that you will hardly believe it until there can no longer be any doubt in your mind. I suppose that is why Robert asked me not to mention his discovery to you earlier."

"No, Iris, that was not the reason," said her lover, and the elder men felt that more than the fancy inspired the astounding intelligence that they had just heard. "Your love was more to me than all the gold in the world. I had won you. I meant to keep you, but I refused to buy you."

He turned to her father. His pent-up emotion mastered him, and he spoke as one who could no longer restrain his feelings.

"I have had no chance to thank you for the words you uttered at the moment we quitted the ship. Yet I will treasure them while life lasts. You gave Iris to me when I was poor, disgraced, an outcast from my family and my profession. And I know why you did this thing. It was because you valued her happiness more than riches or reputation. I am sorry now I did not explain matters earlier. I would have saved you much needless suffering. But the sorrow has sped like an evil dream, and you will perhaps not regret it, for your action to-day binds me to you with hoops of steel. And you, too, uncle. You traveled thousands of miles to help and comfort me in my anguish. Were I as bad as I was painted your kind old heart still pitied me. You were prepared to pluck me from the depths of despair and degradation. Why should I hate Lord Ventnor? What man could have served me as he did? He has given me Iris. He gained for me at her father's hands a concession such as mortal has seldom wrested from a browed fate. He brought my uncle to my side in the hour of my adversity. Hated him! I would have his statue carved in marble and set on high to tell all who passed how good may spring out of evil—how God's

He Acknowledged His Guilt.

SPRINGFIELD, MARCH 7.—THE POLICE HAVE BEEN UNABLE TO FIND ANY TRACE OF HEROLD ROBINSON, OF CINCINNATI, THE LUMBER SADEMAN, WHO IS CHARGED WITH BIGAMY BY MRS. ALICE ROBINSON, OF PRICE HILL, WHO CLAIMS TO BE WIFE No. 2.

THE PARENTS OF MISS JENNIE LINN, THE SWEET SINGER, TO WHOM ROBINSON WAS MARRIED IN THIS CITY ON JANUARY 18, HAVE BEEN NOTIFIED THAT DAUGHTER'S MARRIAGE IS VOID AND WORD HAS BEEN RECEIVED FROM THEM.

MRS. ALICE ROBINSON CLAIMS THAT SHE HAD NO INTIMATION THAT HER HUSBAND HAD COMMITTED BIGAMY UNTIL MONDAY LAST WEEK. A FRIEND TOLD HER IN DETROIT THAT HE HAD HEARD MR. ROBINSON HAD MARRIED A GIRL AT SPRINGFIELD, OHIO. THEN WIFE No. 2 STARTED HER INVESTIGATION, WITH THE RESULT THAT SHE IS SATISFIED OF HIS GUILT. SHE STATES THAT SHE HAS IN HER POSSESSION A LETTER, WRITTEN BY HER HUSBAND TO A FRIEND IN LIMA, IN WHICH HE STATES THAT THE PENITENTIARY WAS STARING HIM IN THE FACE AND THAT HE WOULD GO THERE IF CERTAIN PARTIES DESIRED TO PUSH HIM. THE LETTER WAS DATED THE DAY BEFORE THE WEDDING TO MISS LINN.

MRS. ROBINSON SAYS SHE WILL REMAIN IN THIS CITY A FEW DAYS, HOPING THAT THE POLICE WILL BE ABLE TO LOCATE HER HUSBAND. THEN SHE WILL VISIT FRIENDS IN CINCINNATI. SHE HAS NOTIFIED ROBINSON'S DAUGHTER BY HER FIRST WIFE OF HER FATHER'S MARRIAGE TO MISS LINN.

NO TRUTH

In the Report That the Money Stolen From the Kellar Saloon Had Been Recovered.

The report was circulated on the streets that money recently stolen from the safe at the Kellar saloon, corner High and Main streets had been recovered, is without foundation.

Mr. Keller was interviewed by the DAILY NEWS this afternoon and denied the story in toto. Said he only wished it was true.

He further stated that he had his suspicions as to who the party was, but that it seemed impossible to get proof. The amount taken was between nine and ten hundred dollars.

22 THOUSAND DOLLARS IS

The Amount Asked by the Board of Public Service with

Which to Place the City in Good Shape
So Far as Fire Protection is Concerned.—That Million Dollar Debt.

AT A MEETING OF THE BOARD OF PUBLIC SERVICE HELD SEVERAL DAYS AGO THIS BODY DECIDED THAT THREE NEW FIRE HOUSES WOULD BE A GOOD THING FOR LIMA. IN FACT THEY CONSIDERED SAID IMPROVEMENT AN URGENT NECESSITY. IN ORDER TO BUILD FIRE HOUSES IT IS NECESSARY TO RAISE A LITTLE MONEY AND AT LAST NIGHT'S MEETING OF THE CITY COUNCIL STEPS WERE TAKEN LOOKING TO THAT END. THE BOARD OF SERVICE VERY MODESTLY ASKED FOR THE SUM OF TWENTY-THREE THOUSAND DOLLARS AND JUST WHY THEY DID NOT MAKE IT AN EVEN TWENTY-FIVE IS THEIR BUSINESS. THE TAXPAYERS OF LIMA WANT PROTECTION BUT THEY DON'T WANT TO PLUNGE THE CITY SO DEEPLY INTO DEBT THAT IT WILL NEVER GET OUT. TAXES ARE CERTAINLY HIGH ENOUGH, AND THE OFFICIALS WHO HAVE THE HANDLING OF THE CITY'S FINANCES SHOULD GO A LITTLE SLOW. IT IS A GOOD THING TO HAVE ALL THE UP TO DATE THINGS, BUT WE CAN'T GET THEM IN A BUNCH, FOR YOU KNOW THE CITY HAS SOMETHING LIKE A MILLION DOLLAR DEBT HANGING OVER ITS HEAD AT THE PRESENT TIME.
